

~ A Tribute to Peter Clucas ~

Peter Clucas
1934 - 2019

Peter Clucas, a founder of ClucasGray Investment Management, passed away on the 22nd of May 2019. Peter was a remarkable man, husband, father, friend and businessman. His passion for the stock market was unrivalled and evident from his involvement in broking and investments for more than 56 years.

Peter's private client career began in 1963 when he joined Ferguson Bros Hall Stewart as a stockbroker. His love for the industry and infectious charm saw him soon becoming a partner and head of the Private Client Division. After Ferguson Bros was acquired by Investec Bank in 1996, he remained a Director of Private Clients until he founded ClucasGray together with Fairfax Gray, James Clucas (Peter's son) and Paul Carter in 2005. Their vision was to create a highly personalised investment management boutique that offered bespoke portfolio management services to high net worth individuals, families and trusts. Peter was always extremely proud of ClucasGray and the growth it has achieved over the years.

Peter was well known for sharing captivating tales about the markets including the move from open outcry to screen-based stockbroking as well as being one of the first graduates to write and receive the JSE accreditation in 1965.

Peter, his gentlemanly manner, stories, optimism, humour and dedication to his family, clients and ClucasGray will be sorely missed.

Peter's funeral will be held at 2pm on Thursday 30th May 2019 at Rosebank Catholic Church, Keyes Avenue, Rosebank.
